Re: Bananas!*

Dear Mr. Adelman:

I represent WG Film AB with regard to their film "Bananas!* " This is in response to your letter to my clients and many others dated May 8, 2009 which requested response within five working days, which is today. I am also in receipt of your letter of yesterday to WG Film which expresses consternation in not having heard from us prior to now.

Your letter states without your having had the benefit of seeing it that the referenced film contains "numerous false and defamatory statements of fact." It is your letter which contains such statements, not the film. The film is a balanced documentary of a trial based on actual events. Most of the factual information contained in the film is stated by its subjects, not by the filmmaker, who is essentially acting as a reporter.

As I read the judge's oral statements from the bench, the dismissal of the Mejia case does not vindicate your clients, but does guarantee that we will never know the truth of the situation.

In any event, my client has taken appropriate action in light of the events which you informed them of in your letters, and I believe you will find that there are no defamatory or false comments about your clients in any publicity or current public statements from my clients and that the instances of potentially misleading statements you addressed in your letter last week have been either taken off the sites you mentioned or amended to reflect the effect of subsequent events. Steps are being taken to ensure that the events depicted in the film are put in appropriate context for viewers.

Please direct any future correspondence or telephone calls to this office as counsel for WG Films.

Very truly yours,
